Pernix Technology Group Relaunches Website for Financial Services Firms Seeking Fractional CTO and CISO Leadership

New site sets out the firm's technology, cybersecurity and operations leadership for hedge funds, private equity firms, alternative asset managers, family offices, portfolio companies and regulated financial firms.

New York, NY (October 23, 2026) Pernix Technology Group LLC, a technology leadership firm serving financial services, today announced the relaunch of its website, www.pernixtg.com. The new site explains how Pernix provides fractional Chief Technology Officer (CTO) and Chief Information Security Officer (CISO) leadership to hedge funds, private equity firms, alternative asset managers, family offices, portfolio companies and regulated financial firms.

Investment firms depend on technology to trade, manage risk, meet regulatory obligations and report to investors. At many firms, that responsibility is spread across managed service providers, security vendors, trading-systems providers and internal staff, and no one is accountable for the whole. Artificial intelligence has added a new layer. Firms are adopting AI tools across research, operations and investor reporting, often faster than their policies, security controls and vendor oversight can keep pace, and investors and regulators are asking how those tools are governed. Pernix serves as one accountable partner across all of it. It gives firms executive-level technology and cybersecurity leadership without a full-time hire.

Pernix supports firms across:

- Fund launch and expansion
- Cybersecurity program leadership
- AI governance and security, including policies for responsible use, oversight of AI tools and providers, and protection of confidential and investor data
- SEC examination and investor due diligence readiness
- Trading and portfolio management technology, including order, execution and portfolio management systems, market data and connectivity
- Infrastructure and day-to-day technology operations
- Oversight of third-party technology providers

"After more than 25 years leading technology inside hedge funds and investment management firms, I have seen what happens when responsibility is fragmented across providers," said Felix Jimenez, CISSP, Founder and Chief Executive Officer of Pernix Technology Group. "Everyone owns their piece, but no one is looking after the firm as a whole. AI raises the stakes: someone has to be accountable for how it is adopted, secured and governed, not just switched on. Pernix was founded to close that gap. We give firms experienced leadership to make informed technology decisions and see the work through, from launch to day-to-day operations.”

The website covers both building and running a firm’s technology. Firms can request a technology and security review directly through the site.
